

The Negrosanon

Contributed by Pedro

I've been contemplating for awhile what would be best to promote one's place I've grew up with and became a part of my life. The one place which always live in my heart wherever I may be. The content found in this website is all about this beautiful island and equally beautiful islands surrounding it.

I would like to encourage fellow negrosanon to join me to let it known how to discover our secret paradise and fully enjoy the time spent in it.
